

Contents

Preface	xvii
Ulrike Schultz and Gisela Shaw
List of Contributors	xxi
Introduction: Women in the World's Legal Professions: Overview and Synthesis	xxv
Ulrike Schultz
1 Overview: Contributions
1. Variations in Approach	xxv
2. Conceptual Frameworks	xxvii
2 Comparing Cultures and Countries: Problems and Pitfalls
1. Major Legal Traditions and Cultures	xxviii
2. National Characteristics	xxix
3. Language Barriers	xxxi
3 Synthesis of Results
1. History Shaping the Present	xxxii
2. Comparing National Profiles: Quantitative Data	xxxv
3. Women in Legal Education	xxxviii
4. Women in Legal Practice	xli
4.1 Practising Lawyers	xli
4.1.1 Entering the Profession	xli
4.1.2 Specialisation	xlii
4.1.3 Career Prospects	xlii
4.1.4 Income Differentials	xliii
4.1.5 Power and Privilege: Significance of Social Capital	xliv
4.1.6 Professional Satisfaction	xliv
4.1.7 Long-Hours Culture and the Dual Burden of Profession and Family	xlv
4.1.8 Professional Mobility and the Revolving-Door Effect	xlv
4.2 Women in Other Legal Occupations	xlvi
4.2.1 Women Notaries	xlvi
4.2.2 Women in the Judiciary	xlvi

4.2.3	Women in Other Professional Fields	xlviii
4.3	Special Regulations and Measures to Protect Professional Women	xlviii
4.4	Provisional Conclusions	1
5.	What Change Through the Arrival of Women on the Legal Scene?	li
5.1	Conforming to Male Rules: Does the Profession Change Women?	li
5.2	Women and Structural Change in the Profession	lii
5.2.1	Women's Share in the Increase of Lawyers	liii
5.2.2	Exposure to Market Forces	liii
5.3	Differences After All: Female Lawyering?	liv
5.3.1	Perception of Femininity	liv
5.3.2	Gendered Judging	lv
6.	A Women Lawyers' Project	lvii
6.1	Project Lost?	lviii
6.2	Subliminal Change	lix
7.	What Way Forward for Women Lawyers?	lix

PART 1. WOMEN LAWYERS IN THE COMMON LAW WORLD

1.	Gender and the Profession: An American Perspective	3
	Deborah Rhode
	Abstract	3
1	Introduction	3
2	Professional Roles	4
2.1	Theoretical Frameworks	4
2.2	The Morality of Role	7
3	Professional Opportunities	10
3.1	Myths of Opportunity	10
3.2	Myths of Choice	13
3.3	Alternative Structures	15
4	References	17
2.	The Effect of Lawyer Gender on Client Perceptions of Lawyer Behaviour	23
	William Felstiner et al
	Abstract	23
1	Introduction	23
2	The Project	24
3	Methodology	25
4	Data Analysis	26
5	Conclusion	27
6	References	30

3.	Gender in Context: Women in Family Law	33
	Lynn Mather
	Abstract	33
	1 Introduction	33
	2 The Context: Family Law Practice	35
	3 Gender Similarities and Differences	38
	4 Other Social, Economic, Political, and Legal Forces	42
	5 Conclusion	45
	6 References	45
4.	Barriers to Gender Equality in the Canadian Legal Establishment	49
	Fiona M Kay and Joan Brockman
	Abstract	49
	1 Introduction	49
	2 The Historical Exclusion of Women from the Profession	51
	3 Contemporary Patterns of Inequality	53
	3.1 Barriers to Entry to Practice	59
	3.2 Partnership Prospects	60
	3.3 The Gap in Wages	61
	3.4 Power and Privilege in Practice	62
	3.5 Job Satisfaction	63
	3.6 Departures from Practice	63
	4 Ongoing Struggles in the Canadian Legal Profession	65
	4.1 Equality and Opportunities	65
	4.2 Sexual Harassment and Sexual Harassment Policies	67
	4.3 Family Responsibilities and Accommodation in the Workplace	68
	5 Conclusion: Reform and Innovation in the Canadian Legal Profession	69
	6 Acknowledgements	71
	7 References	71
5.	Engendering the Legal Profession: the Education Strategy	77
	Mary Jane Mossman
	Abstract	77
	1 Introduction	77
	2 The Seminar on Gender Equality for Three Toronto Law Firms	79
	3 Challenges and Constraints	81
	4 Rethinking Gender Equality Education as a Strategy for Change	82
	5 References	85
6.	Women in the Legal Profession: The Australian Profile	87
	Rosemary Hunter
	Abstract	87
	1 Structure of the Legal Profession in Australia	87
	2 Number of Women Lawyers/Male Lawyers	89

3	Specialisation of Women Lawyers	89
4	The Judiciary	91
5	Changes over Time	92
6	Legal Hierarchy	93
7	Career Patterns	94
8	Income Differences	96
9	Part-time Employment	96
10	First Women Lawyers to be Admitted/Appointed to the Judiciary	97
11	Women in Leading Positions in Professional Organisations	98
12	Women Teaching Law	99
13	Women in Legal Education	100
14	Conclusions	100
15	References	101
7.	Women Barristers and Gender Difference in Australia	103
	Rosemary Hunter
	Abstract	103
1	Introduction	103
2	Women within Hegemonic Masculinity: Honorary Blokes	105
3	Women as the ‘Other’ of Masculinity	108
4	Education and Conformity	112
5	Women’s Subversion of Tradition	116
6	Conclusion	119
7	References	120
8.	New Zealand Women Lawyers at the End of the Twentieth Century	123
	Georgina Murray
	Abstract	123
1	Introduction	123
2	Background Information on the Legal Profession	124
	2.1 Socio-political Environment	124
	2.2 The New Zealand Legal Administration	125
	2.3 New Zealand Women Lawyers—Key Dates	126
3	Women in the New Zealand Legal Profession Today	126
	3.1 Gender Profile of the Legal Profession	127
	3.2 Women in Law Schools	130
4	Income	130
5	Time Spent in the Profession	132
6	Professional Organisations for Women Lawyers	135
7	Conclusion	135
8	References	136

9. The Status of Women Lawyers in the United Kingdom	139
Clare MS McGlynn
Abstract	139
1 Introduction	139
2 The Structure of Legal Education and the Profession	140
3 Historical Background: the Entry of Women into Law	141
3.1 Judicial Exclusion	141
3.2 The First Women Solicitors	141
3.3 Admitting Women to the Bar and Bench	142
4 The First Women Law Students and Legal Academics	144
5 Women Law Students in the 1990s	145
5.1 Law Students in the UK	145
5.2 Degrees of Success	145
6 Women Legal Academics	146
6.1 Women Academics Across the Disciplines	146
6.2 Women Legal Academics	148
7 Women Solicitors in the 1990s	150
7.1 The Status of Women Solicitors	150
7.2 Paying for Equality	151
7.3 Women's Work	152
8 Women Barristers in the 1990s	153
8.1 Women at the Bar	153
8.2 Queen's Counsel	154
9 Women Judges	155
10 Conclusions	155
11 References	156
10. Strategies for Reforming the English Solicitors' Profession: An Analysis of the Business Case for Sex Equality	159
Clare MS McGlynn
Abstract	159
1 Introduction	159
2 The Status of Women Solicitors	160
3 The Business Case for Sex Equality	161
3.1 Key Elements of the 'Business Case for Sex Equality'	162
3.2 The Development of the Business Case in the Solicitors' Profession	163
4 The Perils of the Business Case for Equality	166
4.1 Empirical Failings	166
4.2 Economic Analysis and the Potential Repeal of Anti- discrimination Laws	168
4.3 Failing to Confront the Real Issues	169
5 Conclusions	172
6 References	172

11. Prospects for Parity: The Position of Women in the Judiciary in England and Wales	175
Kate Malleon
Abstract	175
1 Introduction	175
2 Historical and Comparative Trends	176
3 The ‘Trickle-Up’ Hypothesis	177
4 The Recruitment Pool and Selection Criteria	180
5 The Selection Process	182
6 Future Trends—Opportunity Structures and Legitimate Expectations	185
7 Conclusion	188
8 References	189
12. Can Women Lawyer Differently? A Perspective from the UK	191
Hilary Sommerlad
Abstract	191
1 Introduction	192
2 The Data	196
2.1 Gender Identity	196
2.2 Legal Specialisms	203
2.3 Different Firms, Different Jobs	211
2.4 Changes in the Field: Cutbacks and Commercialisation	213
3 Conclusion	215
4 References	218
13. The Remains of the Day: The Women Law Professors Project	225
Celia Wells
Abstract	225
1 Introduction	225
2 The Research Project	227
3 Universities and Law Meet Women	229
4 Equal and Different	236
5 Women in Senior Management	238
6 References	243
14. Lawyers in the Courtroom: Gender, Trials and Professional Performance in Israel	247
Bryna Bogoch
Abstract	247
1 Introduction	248
2 Ascription: Gender and Professional Practice	250
2.1 Women Lawyers	250
2.2 Women Judges	251

3	Role: Gender and Professional Style	253
4	Evaluation: Gender and Professional Assessments	257
4.1	Comments in the Courtroom	257
4.2	The Outcomes of Criminal Trials	261
5	Conclusion	264
6	References	265
PART 2. WOMEN LAWYERS IN THE CIVIL LAW WORLD
15.	The Status of Women Lawyers in Germany	271
	Ulrike Schultz
	Abstract	271
1	Overall Professional Profile and Ethos	271
2	Women Lawyers in Germany: a Brief and Sorry Story	272
3	Increase in Women Lawyers in the Past Three Decades	273
4	Women in Legal Education	276
4.1	Women Law Students' Academic Achievements	276
4.2	Women Lawyers In Academia	277
5	Women in the Judiciary	279
5.1	Entry into the Profession	279
5.2	Working Conditions and Job Satisfaction	281
5.3	Horizontal Segmentation in the Judiciary	281
5.4	Career Opportunities	282
6	Women advocates	285
6.1	Overview	285
6.2	Fields of Practice and Income	285
6.3	Professional Choice and Entry to the Profession	287
6.4	Professional Representation	289
6.5	Equal Opportunities?	289
7	References	290
16.	Women Lawyers in Germany: Perception and Construction of Femininity	295
	Ulrike Schultz
	Abstract	295
1	Idealism vs Ideology. The Context for Reflections on Women in the Legal Profession in Germany	295
1.1	The Idealistic Element: the Image of the German Housewife	296
1.2	The Pragmatic Element: Life Realities of German Women at the Turn of the Millennium	297
1.3	The Political/Ideological Element: from Equal Rights and Equal Chances towards Equal Standing	298
1.4	Epistemological and Methodological Issues	299

2	Will or Does the Profession Change Women?	301
2.1	Assimilation Processes in Legal Education: Concepts and Construction of Femininity	301
2.1.1	Assimilation of Women Law Teachers	302
2.1.2	Assimilation of Female Law Students	302
2.1.2.1	Expected Stereotypes	302
2.1.2.2	Textbook Stereotypes. Housewife doing the dusting, or: 'Diamonds are a girl's best friend'	305
2.1.2.3	The Use and Impact of these Stereotypes	306
2.1.3	Preliminary Tentative Conclusion: Will the Profession Change Women?	307
2.2	Subjection Without Reward: Women Lawyers in Practice	308
2.2.1	Female Judges with Male Qualities	308
2.2.2	Advocates' Problems	309
2.2.3	Further Conclusion	309
3	Will Women Change the Profession? Or How Do Women See Themselves?	310
3.1	Changes in Legislation	310
3.2	Gender Difference in the Practice of Law: Habitus and Behaviour	311
3.2.1	How Female Advocates See Themselves	311
3.2.2	Client Relationships	312
3.2.3	A Criminal Defence Lawyer's Experience	312
3.2.4	Judges and Femininity	313
3.3	Different Outcomes or: Do Women Judge Differently?	314
4	A Changing Image?	316
5	References	318
17.	Women Lawyers in the New Federal States of Germany: from Quantity to Quality?	323
	Gisela Shaw
	Abstract	323
1	Women in Socialism: the Built-in Dilemma	323
2	Women Lawyers in Germany: Unpropitious Beginnings	324
3	Women Lawyers in the German Democratic Republic (1949–1990)	325
4	East German Women Lawyers in United Germany: the Numbers Game	329
5	Women Lawyers in the New Federal States: from Quantity to Quality?	334
6	Conclusion	337
7	References	337

18. Women in the Dutch Legal Profession (1950–2000)	341
Leny E de Groot-van Leuven
Abstract	341
1 Introduction	341
2 Female Participation in the Dutch Legal Profession	341
3 What Links between Gender and Professional Attitudes/Practice?	344
3.1 Academic Achievement	344
3.2 Career Ambitions	344
3.3 Reasons for Choice of Career and Legal Specialism	344
3.4 Attitudes towards Clients	346
3.5 Patterns of Moral Reasoning	347
4 Conclusions	348
5 References	350
19. Choices in Context: Life Histories of Women Lawyers in the Netherlands	353
Heleen FP Ietswaart
Abstract	353
1 Introduction	353
2 Where Are the Women Lawyers?	354
3 Alternatives: Women’s Life Histories and New Perspectives on Career Theory	355
4 Life Histories of Women Lawyers in the Netherlands	357
4.1 The Pioneer Generation	357
4.2 Discrimination	359
4.3 Part-Time Work: Progress and Obstacles	360
4.4 Discontinuity	361
4.5 Sexual Harassment	362
4.6 The Role of Partners	363
4.7 Anticipating Contingency	365
4.8 Finances: No Breadwinner Status	366
5 Conclusions	367
6 References	369
20. Women Lawyers in Poland under the Impact of Post-1989 Transformation	371
Małgorzata Fuszara
Abstract	371
1 Introduction	371
2 Women Lawyers in Poland: Historical Overview	372
2.1 Women Law Students and Academics	372
2.2 Women in the Legal Professions	374
3 Women in the Legal Professions: the Situation Today	374
3.1 Women Judges	374

3.1.1	Statistical Data	374
3.1.2	Careers	375
3.1.3	Female Adjucation	376
3.2	Women Public Prosecutors	377
3.3	Women Attorneys, In-house Legal Advisers, and Notaries	378
3.3.1	The Situation Prior to 1989	378
3.3.2	1989 and After	380
3.3.3	Women Lawyers After 1989	382
3.3.3.1	Women Advocates	382
3.3.3.2	Women In-house Legal Advisers	383
3.3.3.3	Women Notaries	384
4	Concluding Observations	385
5	References	386
21.	Women Jurists in Finland at the Turn of the Century: Breakthrough or Intermezzo?	387
	Harriet Silius
	Abstract	387
1	Introduction	387
2	Women's Entry into the Legal Profession in the Nordic Countries	388
3	Finnish Women Lawyers at the Start of the 1990s	390
4	Developments in the 1990s: Sectors and Salaries	392
5	Concluding Observations	397
6	References	399
22.	Male Strategies in the Face of the Feminisation of a Profession: the Case of the French Judiciary	401
	Anne Boigeol
	Abstract	401
1	Introduction	401
2	Women's Access to the Legal Profession	402
3	Feminising the Judiciary	403
3.1	Feminsation of Law Studies and of the Legal Profession	403
3.2	Feminisation and Mode of Selection for the Various Legal Professions: Relevance of Selection by Examination Results	405
3.3	Men's Lack of Interest in Judicial Careers	406
3.4	Magistrature and barreau : Differing Patterns of Feminisation	407
3.5	Choosing to Join the Judiciary	407
4	Old and New Faces of Male Domination in the Judiciary	409
4.1	Challenging the Old Masculine Model	409
4.2	Processes of Differentiation	410

4.2.1	Differentiation by Function	411
4.2.2	Hierarchical Differentiation	411
4.2.3	Differentiation via a Sideways Move	413
4.3	Male Domination and Feminisation as a ‘Problem’	414
4.4	A Feminine Model of Administering Justice?	415
5	Conclusion	416
6	References	417
23.	Professional Body and Gender Difference in Court: The Case of the First (Failed) Woman Lawyer in Modern Italy	419
	Vittorio Olgiati
	Abstract	419
1	Introduction	419
2	Theoretical Approaches	420
3	Epistemological Tools	421
4	Women Lawyers in Italy Prior to Italian Unification	422
5	A New Legal Scenario	424
6	Legal and Political Implications of the New Legal Framework	425
7	The Lidia Poet Court Case and its Socio-legal Impact	426
8	The Issue at Stake: Gender Difference or Gendered Governance?	429
9	A Question of Legal Hermeneutics: the Janus-headed Nature of the Legal Profession	429
10	The infirmitas sexus in Positive Law and Legal Theory	431
11	Concluding Observations	433
12	References	434
24.	Women in the Judiciary: a Perspective from Brazil	437
	Eliane Botelho Junqueira
	Abstract	437
1	Introduction	437
2	Choice of Career	439
3	Relationships with Male ‘Equals’	444
4	Impact of Gender on Decision-Making Processes	445
5	Conclusion	449
6	References	450
25.	Lee Tai-Young (1914–1998): The Pioneer Woman Lawyer of South Korea	451
	Haesook Kim
	Abstract	451
1	Introduction	451
2	Parental Family	452
3	Education	456
4	Marriage	459

5	New Opportunities	461
6	Conclusion	463
7	References	464
26.	Women Lawyers in Japan: Contradictory Factors in Status Yuriko Kaminaga and Jörn Westhoff	467
	Abstract	467
1	Introduction	467
1.1	General Observations	467
1.2	Methodology	468
1.3	Women in Japan	468
2	Women's Rights Committee of the Japanese Bar	470
3	The 1991 Survey	471
3.1	Demographic Factors	471
3.2	Legal Work	472
3.3	Type of work	475
3.4	Clientele	475
3.5	Views on Japanese Law	476
3.6	Sexual harassment	478
3.7	Affirmative Action Policy	478
3.8	Supporting the Women's Cause	479
4	Conclusion and Future Outlook	480
5	References	482