

Reflexiones sobre el derecho represivo y el derecho restitutivo justo cien años después de la muerte de Emile Durkheim: una investigación participativa de la población de los Guajiros

by Domenico Carzo

Full Professor of Sociology of Communication at the Faculty of Political Sciences of the University of Messina. Graduated in 1972 at the Faculty of Political Sciences of the University of Florence. After the graduation he obtained a scholarship and became Instructor at the Faculty of Political Sciences of the University of Messina. In these early years, he developed a research on legal culture, communication and semiotics. These studies resulted in the production of several articles and essays printed in different languages.

March 13, 2018 - 12:00 a.m.
Place: Antia Residence